

Help us to Foster Careers in Materials Science!

ASM/NACE Calgary Materials Camp for Teachers
June 18-22, Southern Alberta Institute of Technology, Calgary AB

"I really enjoyed everything! I have been teaching for 18 years and even though I've seen or used a few of the demos, I was able to learn and apply info in new ways. I now have many more demos/labs to do in the classroom."

"Labs were all very good, easy to follow, great for students."

"Whether you are a Jr. or Sr. high teacher, there was information applicable, appropriate and fun for everyone."

ASM and NACE have been offering annual workshops to excite educators about teaching materials science in their classrooms for many years. Interest in the camps has grown over the years, and in 2012 we expect to provide the experience to more than 25 teachers in Calgary.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

This free five-day workshop combines innovative classroom instruction and laboratory experiences to show teachers how to engage their students using simple, low cost/no cost experiments that they can integrate into existing lesson plans. These teachers thus become better equipped to help their students learn more about materials science and to discover career opportunities in science. And these teachers also share their experience with their colleagues, hence expanding the impact of this important opportunity.

SPONSORSHIPS COVER MOST OF THE COST

We seek corporate sponsors for the Teacher Materials Camp in order to help our two organizations with the costs for promotion, instructors, materials, logistic and accommodation/meals for this very valuable and well-appreciated camp. Financial contributions already received from NACE Foundation, NACE Calgary, ASM and ASM Calgary, will be combined with contributions from the industry.

We also see sponsorship as an opportunity for our industry colleagues to demonstrate both their support for the teaching of materials science and their desire to encourage and foster careers in this area.
